NEWPORT,

BY CRANSTON & NORMAN

127 THAMES STREET.

TUESDAY MORN'G AUG. 19, 1851.

From the Baltimore Patriot. Newsons, Aug. 11, 1851, Ocean House,

Every year makes Newport more of a city and less of an ordinary watering place. Since the last scason, some thirty or forty of what may be called suburban virlas, have been creeted here and many, who formerly were guests at the House, now occupy their own mansions for the summer. Not is it in this particular alone, that Newport is losing the character peruliar to watering places, and becoming city-wise. Society is assuming its city shape; and the Freceptions" at Newport, are those of New York, Philadelphia, or Beston, so far as the size of the mansion will allow.... Nor is there any thing objectionable in all this. It used to be comfortable, in some respects, to live in one's slippers at "the springs," and to be released from the more formal observances of society-but there were disadvantages attending this also; and it is unquestionably a great improvement to the seashore, so far us the enjoyment of the visitors is concerned, that there should be, in addition to air and sea-bathing, sailing, fishing, and shooting, pistol galleries, and bawling, a refined and orgapized society, as a part of the attractions of the place. The Hutels will contique, however, to be as crowded as they now are; for every year enlarges the circle of the influence of the spot of earth, which may, even now, be called "A kingdom by the read" and so it will be until the Pacific shores. having contributed their quota of visitors, nothing will be left but the Hawations and the Chinese-the Kanakas and the Celestials,

There is a little of every thing here; the most striking objects certainly being fine women-the next fine horses-and the next being fine weather. Touching the horses, here you see the horse pe pulier to this country—the fast trotter in his prime and glory-not perhaps the racing trotter-but the teetiers for every day use. The fine roads of the island are un attraction to their owners, and tkey are brought here, and exhibited every evening in every description of vehicle and under the saddle. Even the milk wagon horse starts with a dash and at every turn you see the northern herse in the handsomest and in the humblest equipages, literally "going it."-The ladies too, eschewing the pace and the canter, dash off in a swinging trot and with great good sense, and kind feeling for their horse and themselves too, rise and fall with his motion, instead of pounding him by bobbing up and down, in the process of being churned into litter. Not the least a tractive part of an afternoon's exhibition is the temale horsemunship of Newport.

Occasionally, the amusements of New-part are very unexpectedly diversified, A few evenings since, one of the visitors blied a boat at the wharf, to go over to the shore of Canonicut, by the light house and oil the end of Rose Islandat which has there is a target for practice from Fort Adams, a space well whitewashed, of about six feet in diameter, on the stone of the circular work which takes the place of a bastion on the south western tugle of the fortification there. One or two shot from the thirty two pounders on the upper, or barbette, battery of Fort Adams had been remarked by the gentleman in question, but without at all suggesting what was to follow. Presently, however, there was a dull bustling sound, as of a popping shot, and the bustman was asked if there was any danger. His answer was in the negative, and, as it stood to reason, that there could be no object in the officers at the Fort annaing themselves with firing 33 pound shot at the Ocean House visitors, or in playing Gen. Putnam and the Indian trying to see how close they could come without hitting-nothing more was said. Presently however, another shot, yelling, screeching, and howling as only : 32 pound shot can do, came so close to the heat across her path in front, that both boutains and passenger codged in continently; its effect upon their carbeing deafening. "Zounds," says the boatman, "but that was grazing I". As for the passenger he had no belief that the barbette battery had any designs of his life; but when he looked at the broad face of the walls on which the target was, and saw that in all the practice from the Fort, they had never succeade I in hitting the wall, let alone the target, he could not help feeling that such wild shooting neight sometimes. the charteful to those many of the tirest of the plant of the mozzl; of the piece. But he had scarcely time to think to amother shot passed just astern of the boat, which in the interval between the two had crossed the line of fire, and for relates the following : took dare when she next crossed it, to go so close under the walls, as to be very safe from any thing but a very plunging fire indeed. Whether such agreeable diversitieations of Newport stilling are common, is not known. Still a yelp of a carnon shot, as a matter of curiosis ty, is interesting, if one could only be the artilleusiza

THE EGLIPSE IN NORTHERN EGROPE--The eclipes of July 28th, as observed at Berlin, in Prussia, is thus described by a correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle:

"The solar colipes commenced at 8h 71-2m. I witnessed it from the exercising ground, South of the town. The sky had been lowering all day, and the heavens were clouded till the eclipse was nearly over. The day, however, was fine, with a continual breeze from the North. At 3h. 7 1-4m, the eclipse commenced, but it was not till 12m, after I that the effect was visible. The right side of the sun was first darkened by the body of the moon, from the moon advancing gradually Westward.

At 17m; past 3 the sun was completely concealed by the clouds, but became visible again at 44m, past, when the greater portion of the disc was obscurated, leaving all the appearance of a crescent, which became gradually less At 4h. 10m, the celipse had reached its culmination point. The light given by the sun at this moment was very pale, not unsimilar to moonlight. This light had a powerfal effect upon some persons. I observed some women weeping, and the birds flew hastily and close to the ground, as if alarmed. Such a light may have been in chaos before the san was made. At 14m past 4, clouds | 8 again concealed it from view. When it again burst through the clouds the moon had nearly passed. At 5h, 14m. it was over at Berlin. At no moment was it dark, though for a time the light was feeble. Business went on as usuar, as if nothing particular was going on."

"I knew an old man who believed that what was to be, would be." He lived in Missouri, and was one day going out several miles through a region infested with savage Indians. He always took his gan with him, but this time he found that some of the family had it out. As he would not go without it, some of a little carer on the score of the skill of his triends tantalized him, by saying there was no danger of Indians; that he would not die until his time had come, anyhow. "Yes," says the old fellow, but suppose I was to meet an Indian,' 'and his time had come, it wouldn't do not to have my gun."

MEDICINES FOR THE PEO-PLU DR. S. A. WEAVER'S CANKER AND SALT RHEUM

STREP, CANKER CURE AND CERATE.

CANKER CURE AND CERATE.

THESE preparations are refertife productions.

At a regularly educated physician (who is now extensively engaged in the practice of his profession.) They have become deserveily popular in all sections of the country, where they have been introduced, from the fact that they have been introduced, from the fact that they have been used accepting to direction.

THE CANKER AND SALT RESUMS YRUP is an article differing entirely for Sarsarpurible or Dock Syrups, or any other preparation ever affected the public. It can be positively relied a for the effectual cure of all Scrafulous Humors, Erysip-las, Salt Rheum, Canker in the Mouth, Stomach or Bowels, Fernale weakenesses, and all humors arising from an impure state of the blood. In a word it is a complete recovator, cradicating disease and restoring to healthy action every part.

THE CERATE

In a word it is a complete renorator, conditioning disease and rectoring to healthy action every particles. THE CERATE

In all cases of horsess, and especially for Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, is a valuable, accompaniment to the System, as it will effectually destroy every restignost funar from the serface of the body which will be driven out by the use of the Syrup. It is one of the most valuable external applications errer known for Burns, Scalde, Scald Head, Old Sores, Piles, Barbers Rich, and all other eruptions on the skim. And lar surparses all other external applications.

THE CANKER CURE

Is the desideration as long sought for the relief and sure of extend diseases which all other predictions have failed to relieve. It is warranted a positive cure for Nursing Strey Mouths, in these cases it has never failed. Thous had bettered a positive cure for Nursing Strey Mouths, in these cases it has never failed. Thous had bettered in the Manth, Stomach and Bawels, and obtained dysoutery it has effected cures after all other tried irrandices had failed. For Ulcers and all discuses proceeding from cankerous hunters in the system this is useful and is a valuable accompaniment to the Syrup in all cases of Canker.

Nother of the above articles are geneine without the signature of S. A. WEAVER & Co., so the content without the signature of S. M. WEAVER & Co., so the outside wrapper.
